

FRIDAY FOLLIES

April 11, 2008

Hey!

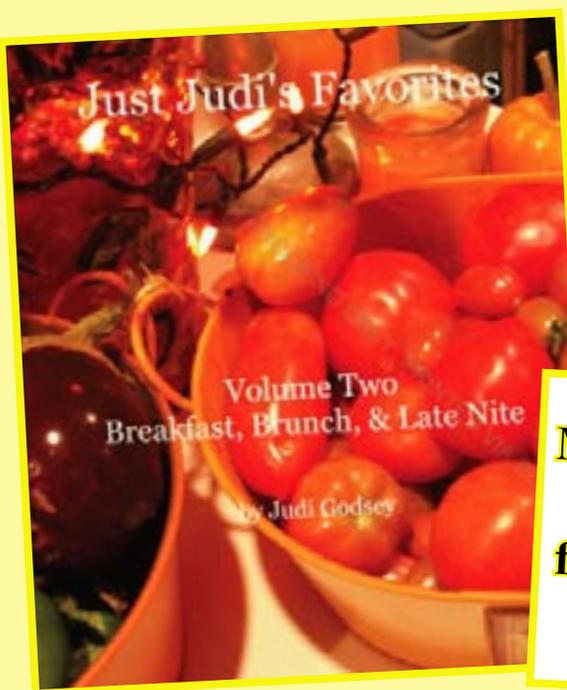

April 11, 2008

April showers, so they say... If that is the truth, then we are gonna have some kinda FLOWERS come May! It has rained everyday this month - I am talking about the long, drizzling, misty, damp, cold, kind of rain. Even our streets and low lying areas are flooded. Too bad we could not space this out and get some of it in July or August when we will be begging for it!

Anyway, I guess we have nothing to complain about considering the weather across the south and the great plains states. Bless my nephew Bill's heart. He moved to Chicago from Tampa this year right before the fall. What a shocker! I know his head has to be spinning by now!

I have been working on the second cook book. After three weeks of working on it gradually and almost pulling my hair out at how slow the software program is, I got a notice from the company this week that they have upgraded their program. I promptly downloaded it, and it is lightening speed compared to the other program. I hope to zoom right along, now.

This second volume of Just Judi's Favorites is Breakfast, Brunch, and Late Nite and is going to be well over 100 pages. I am very pleased with it thus far. Plus, there is nothing I love more than breakfast food. I remember when my kids were little, they would do a little dance when they would ask what was for dinner and I would reply, "Breakfast Food!" I remember as a child, too, it was always such a treat to have breakfast food at night! Ha! There are a lot of international recipes in this cook book as well as Southern and traditional. I think you will really like it.

YUP! All these flowers are from my yard. Pretty, eh? I have tons of tulips right now. Wish they lasted longer. I don't generally cut those for vases because they are so pretty in the yard.

More baby birds this week. Three came out of their nest for the first time. Then there are at least two - perhaps three more - in another nest. They are too young for me to tell, yet. Mama won't move long enough for me to see them.

It is always fun to watch them come out of their nest and start to develop personalities. I always watch them and wait a week or so before naming them. May not get too attached to these, though. If they are female, I may keep a few, but I have more males than I know what to do with! (Birds, that is - LOL!)

There are several very nice events and parties coming up in the next week or so. I will try to take some photos. It often depends on who I am with and the circumstances, though.

Please say a little pray for my Jessica and Ricky as the next few weeks will be particularly hard for them. Ricky's father is very ill. Will updated you on the whole situation another time.

To all of you on my Friday Follies List, whether you are in Manila, Singapore, Kuwait, Bermuda, Virginia Beach, Mississippi, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Minnesota, Indiana, Colorado, Lake Tahoe, Philadelphia, Key West, New Jersey, North Carolina, Indonesia, Washington D.C., Iraq, Costa Rica, Poland, Maryland, West (By-God) Virginia, Nashville, Florida, Saudi Arabia, New Hampshire, Tampa, Chattanooga, France, Phoenix, New York, Oregon, Russia, Maine, Australia, Bangkok, or Yuma, have a wonderful, wonderful week!

God bless.
Remember, life is short!
We need to make it a good one.
Grow in peace and wisdom.
Your Friday Friend,

Judi Godsey

PS. NOTE OF CAUTION... 20 employees were fired from The New York Times here in Norfolk for sending lewd and indecent emails. (To my knowledge, none of the 20 were on our joke list - even though some of the attorneys who represent the company were) I have asked each and every one of you on this list to tell me if the jokes that accompany these "Follies" place you in jeopardy, or even if they offend you. Please understand that they are intended to be light-hearted and are not mean-spirited in any way. If you are ever offended, do not hesitate to ask to be taken off the Friday Follies Joke List. PSS. If you send a joke and I don't use it, it is because it has been used before, and I try not to repeat. Remember, I have been sending these since August of 1997. One tends to go through huge numbers of jokes that way. Disclaimer: When anyone asks if I type all of these jokes, the answer is, "No!" I cut and paste one evening during the week (30 minutes, TOPS). Obviously I don't have time to sit, read, and retype jokes all day!
