

FRIDAY FOLLIES

December 15, 2006

Ho, Ho, Ho!

December 15, 2006

Where the heck do I start? My Gosh!

My brother got here Thursday a week ago, and I have not come up for air, yet! We have had so much fun! It just happened that the couple of weeks that he is here, there have been tons of functions and parties for the holidays - and we aren't through yet... Some have been obligations and some have just been fun. Unfortunately, a lot of my girlfriends are totally stressed and busy right now with their own company and family stuff, so even though he has met a lot of my friends, he has not met many of my girlfriends, yet. He left this morning to go to see his son in North Carolina (which is why I have two seconds to put these Follies together) and he will be back tomorrow night in time for another party. There is something going on every, single night he is here - but maybe one night next week I will be able to pull a couple of girlfriends in for a cocktail to meet him. Time will tell. I do think he is having a good time, though. I know I am.

Here are just some fun shots from different parties and events. I have been able to see some folks this season that I have missed dearly! Here is Santa telling Sheila what HE wants for Christmas! Ho HO! What a fun night that was! Santa was very HAPPY when he arrived!

And he only got HAPPIer as the night progressed!
Ha-ha!

Larry and me with some of my dearest friends in the world...
Chad, Sheila, Marta, and Geoff.
(Roman, they live in Wilmington part of the year now. You HAVE to meet them! You guys would get along famously!)

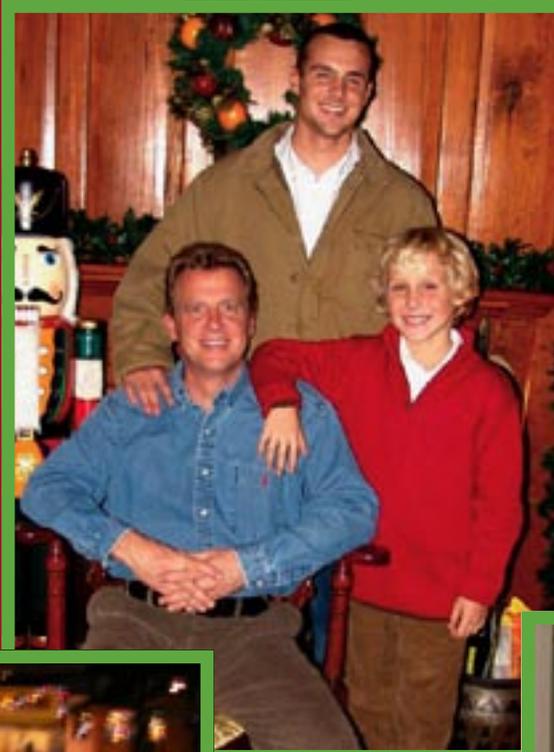

And my good buddy, Gloria, stopped by for a nice visit. It has been waaaay too long, Glo. New Year's Resolution - we will not let that much time go by again! Deal?

There were plenty of other events, too, but I simply did not get photos... All were great fun! Thank you to all of you, sincerely, for the GREAT Christmas memories!

And Santa just kept popping up everywhere!

One of the best times we had was last night! We went out to dinner and ran into some friends there, and then after - on the way home - we decided to stop in a restaurant right down the street. The band was awesome and will be in Mississippi for New Year's Eve! Those of you down there, if you get a chance to go see "Right-On" DO! They were playing a different venue last night, but when they do their 70's show, it is a RIOT! A MUST SEE! You will sing and dance until you can't anymore...

I also met a new friend who was celebrating her 40th birthday! Tabatha and I have TONS of mutual friends and we sat there and talked into the wee hours. I LOVE new friendships!

Happy Birthday, Tab. Of course , we have had some great times with Jessica, too. (Wish Jeremy could be here, too... I am planning to go see him this winter or early spring!) But Jess has been getting ready all week to go to New York City this weekend to visit friends - this while in the middle of finishing up her exams and working three jobs! I am lucky to see her at all, bless her heart! She was soooo excited. She has not been to NYC since she was a young girl, so I cannot WAIT to hear her stories. Her new "friend" lives in the city and works for an advertising company there. I know she will have a blast.

Of course, Larry an I did a few of the touristy things, too. Here with King Neptune.

And, of course, there is also that WONDERFUL "down time..."

We have not had a lot of that, but when we can get it - it is awesome...

Notice that Oliver stays just as close to Larry as he can get. Loves him to death!

Notice, also, that I had to barricade my Christmas tree. "Ollie" discovered the ornaments one night while I was sleeping and he totally redecorated my entire living room for me with ornaments and potpourri...

EVERYWHERE!

Why I did not get a photo, I do not know. It reminded me of that Internet photo of the puppy who has totally destroyed his living room and is asleep in the middle of the mess.

Oh, the joys of puppyhood...

OK. Nap time for Mama. I have a date tonight, and I need to get some sleep or I am not gonna be much fun, that is for sure...

Love ya.

PS. NOTE OF CAUTION... 20 employees were fired from The New York Times here in Norfolk for sending lewd and indecent emails. (To my knowledge, none of the 20 were on our joke list - even though some of the attorneys who represent the company were!) I have asked each and every one of you on this list to tell me if the jokes that accompany these "Follies" place you in jeopardy, or even if they offend you. Please understand that they are intended to be light-hearted and are not mean-spirited in any way. If you are ever offended, do not hesitate to ask to be taken off the Friday Follies Joke List. PSS. If you send a joke and I don't use it, it is because it has been used before, and I try not to repeat. Remember, I have been sending these since August of 1997. One tends to go through huge numbers of jokes that way. Disclaimer: When anyone asks if I type all of these jokes, the answer is, "No!" I cut and paste one evening during the week (30 minutes, TOPS). Obviously I don't have time to sit, read, and retype jokes all day!
